

COLNAGHI

Black-glazed Mug

Greek (Apulian), 4th century B.C.

Terracotta

Height: 9.2 cm; 3 5/8 in.

Provenance:

Acquired from David Cahn, Basel, 1999;

Private collection, Zurich, 1999-2023.

A Greek terracotta jug covered in a rich black glaze, with a smooth body not featuring a shoulder, a wide circular rim flaring outwards, and a disk foot. A single loop handle is attached to the underside of the lip and the side of the vessel, where one might imagine a shoulder to be.

References:

For two comparable (though ribbed) examples, see Beazley Archive numbers 1001532 and 1006264.