Laetitia Campbell (b. 1996, Paris) recently stepped away from her career in the Paris high-end fashion world to devote herself solely to her textile-based art practice, in London. Having pursued embroidery development at major fashion houses, including Saint Laurent and Hermès, Campbell, who has a BA in Fine Art and an MA in Fashion both from Gerrit Rietveld Academie, Amsterdam now uses this technical repertoire exclusively in her own work exploring questions of memory and home.

Campbell, who is French-British and of Jamaican heritage, uses the sewing machine as a drawing tool to create images that float in spaces of ambiguity, between the past and present, figuration and abstraction, alienation and belonging. New work will be unveiled at the London Art Fair, in which Campbell expands on her vocabulary of natural motifs including a new series of "bouquet" works in colour.

Solo exhibitions: On your way home, Ed Cross Fine Art, London, 2025, On your way home, what did you find? David Parr House, Cambridge (UK) 2026 Forthcoming group shows: A stitch in time, Paul Smith Gallery, London, 2026 Andelli Art, Somerset, 2026.
